

No More Excuses™

Whether you are facing changes, new product rollouts or challenging initiatives requiring people to perform at their best, nothing happens until everyone takes personal accountability for their choices, actions and results.

After 30 years of observing people and owning businesses, Sam Silverstein has discovered that the number one reason people succeed in their personal and professional lives is: they don't make or accept excuses.

No More Excuses is an gripping, entertaining and funny look at the major reasons people aren't achieving their goals and how to go about overcoming their obstacles.

No More Excuses! Sam teaches the four phases of accountability and the five critical, but often overlooked, areas to apply personal accountability. By eliminating excuses you are able to build stronger organizations.

Application of Sam's five unique principles of accountability will result in better leaders, increased sales and improved customer service.

Author, entrepreneur and professional speaker Sam Silverstein mixes humor, sarcasm and a heavy dose of the truth to entertain and challenge audiences. He teaches proven principles that apply to today's businesses and lifestyles. Sam is the author of The Power of Choice, The Success Model and The Greatest Secret to Business Success. From AFLAC and Prudential Financial to Lucent Technologies and Coldwell Banker, a large range of companies look to Sam to help them deliver a message and put their teams in gear.
